

Fleeting Messages

As an author, I am aspiring to captivate my readers so they will dream the dreams with me and go through each adventure: experiencing it themselves in the moment, so to speak. These are a compilation of stories from the heart, visions from God, love and faith, daydreams, writings that hopefully will touch the hearts of many, poignant memories from the past, childhood memories, whimsical thoughts, and sometimes capturing moments of time.

I hope that in writing these poems, the reader will capture the very essence in which they were written.
