

Yellow Diamond Hunter

The sun is up there, and Sol Ruby knows it. The problem lies in convincing everyone else. In sixty eight days, his sister will be sacrificed. Her blood will not unveil the sun, but it will give humanity more time. The world needs her to die, but Sol wants her to survive. Only, he doesn't know how to rescue the girl that he abandoned. Because the hunter is incapable of using magic, like the powerful mages that will happily slit her throat, Sol has to rely on relics that he finds hiding in the dark zones. He even promises to pursue a myth. The Yellow Diamond. What could be worse than chasing a fable? All of the rumors lead to one place, a city of ramanga. The undead have discovered restoration and evolution. All they need is human blood.
