

Leonardo da Vinci (Illustrated and annotated)

Leonardo da Vinci is an essay on the Italian genius by Sigmund Freud (1856-1939), the founding father of the psychoanalysis. First published in 1910, the book was translated in English by Abraham A. Brill (1874-1948) in 1916. This edition is illustrated with the reproduction of several Leonardos paintings. It also contains Freuds original notes to the text.
