

Safety, Security, and Survival

Safety, Security and Survival is a compilation of advice, action and reaction, concerning the dangers to life in our present society. The topics of concern include home invasions, parking lot robberies, abductions, scams, and surviving riots, as well as discussions on finance and health. A person increases the odds of survival if a situation is anticipated and considered in advance. One must have a plan in mind when the crises occurs. It is difficult to make a decision when all the options are disagreeable, but a decision must be made if one is to survive.
