

Your Body from Head to Toe

Moms and dads quickly discover that very young kids are naturally curious about their bodies. Heres a cheerfully illustrated book that parents and kids can look at and read together. Its words and pictures present the human body in a way that will make sense to toddlers. They start by finding out that they began life inside their moms belly. Next, they discover their legs, arms, and hands, for walking, running, and picking things up. Then they learn about their eyes for seeing light and color, their tongue for tasting the food they eat, their nose for smelling, and their skin and its sense of touch. Finally, they discover how the food they eat first goes to their stomachs, then nourishes their entire body.
